

The proposed rule, 02-230, is a violation of U.S. Copyright law fair use. The U.S. Supreme court ruled in the famous Disney vs. Sony case that viewers of broadcast television have a right to record, for their own personal use, over-the-air signals.

This rule would provide Hollywood with the control to take away those rights whenever they please.

No corporate entity should be given such powers, as they are not the government and the FCC should not be acting as if they are on Hollywood's payroll.

I therefore go on record opposing said rulemaking proposal.
